Everything You Need To Know About Blogging for Beginners

30 years ago, there is no such thing as blogging. Back then, expressing one's thoughts, ideas, opinions and personal experiences were done by hand.

Fast forward to the 20th century and there are over 200 blogs around.

Without a doubt, blogging has become a person's outlet to express what he or she thinks about something else that likely affects everyone's way of life. Some of the most influential (and even controversial) personalities like Richard Feynman, Gina Marie Trapani, Pete Cashmore and Pete Rojas started out as bloggers. It was also in the so-called "blogosphere" wherein people were able to know Julian Assange (and the global mayhem he brought due to WikiLeaks), the importance of legalizing gay marriage in America and why Perez Hilton is one of the most hated celebrity insiders around.

Bloggers spend most of their time sharing insights with their readers. Through daily blog posts, readers will be able to expand their knowledge and share it to others as well. Indeed, blogging is one of the most powerful tools of online interaction man has ever created.

However, blogging comes with a responsibility. For beginners, always remember the importance of analyzing what you're going to talk about. The internet is a very wide medium – it can either make you famous or ruin your life.
